

RECIPROCATATION.

Governor Edwards surprised the politicians by appointing William D. Brown, a Republican, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Congressman Francis F. Patterson as County Clerk of Camden. It is a $6,000 job, and the appointment is for three months. Governor Cox of Ohio has offered to appoint as successor of United States Senator Warren G. Harding the man favored by the President-elect.

Practical demonstrations, these, that politics are growing less bitter. Since "one good turn deserves another," it will be up to the Republican Legislature of New Jersey to reciprocate the favor shown by the Democratic Governor to the Republican leader of South Jersey. It is no secret that, while orders are issued in the name of David Baird, they originate with Frank Patterson.
